

Do you enjoy working one to one with people; supporting them to lead full and active lives?

If so, join our team of Community Support Workers.

THE WORK OF HEADWAY EAST LONDON

Headway East London (“Headway”) is a charity supporting people affected by brain injury. With service users (Headway’s ‘members’) from across 13 London boroughs, we offer specialist support and services to around 250 survivors each week, as well as support and advice to their family, friends and carers.

These services include a day service, neurological therapies, one to one community support, advice, advocacy and family support. As the effects of brain injury are long-term, so is our support. We believe that every one of our members has something to contribute to both Headway and the wider community.

COMMUNITY SUPPORT WORK

The ethos of the Community Support Worker Service is embedded in Headway’s vision that every person with a brain injury is valued, respected and should be empowered to fulfil their potential to lead full and active lives.

As a Community Support Worker, you will work one to one with survivors in their own homes and the local community to collaboratively:

- Aid them to complete daily tasks and gain further independence
- Support them as they seek to come to terms with their injury
- Help them to re-integrate into family and community life, including returning to study or work
- Maximise the opportunities and choices available to them
- Manage complex activities at home like managing finances, budgeting and paper work
- Develop and maintain a daily and weekly structure which promotes well-being (including monitoring health, meal planning and engaging in exercise).
