CONSENT TO PROCESS & SHARE INFORMATION

Headway East London needs to store and use the personal information you give us. We do this so that we can keep records and support you. We keep your personal information data securely on our systems which are data protection compliant. Data is kept in confidence and is only available to our staff and volunteers.

We may need to share your personal information with other parties who support you or receive information about you from them. Examples include local authority, GP, hospital, and benefits agency. We will ask permission from you about this wherever possible. Please tell us if there is anyone you do not want us to share information with. If the police or court ask for data we are legally obliged to provide this.

More information about what data we store, how long for, and where it is kept are in our Privacy Policy Information Sheet (show this, or the easy read version).

We need your consent to use your personal information, given by agreeing and signing below.

- You can withdraw consent at any time by contacting us to request this.
- If we do not have your consent to store and process your personal data we may not be able to support you in the best way, or at all. We will talk to you about this.
- You can request to see the personal data we hold about you at any time by contacting us to request this.
- We keep your data for 6 years after the last time you were in contact with us.

I consent to Headway East London storing and processing my personal data to assist with my support.

Information Sheet

Headway East London's Data Protection & Privacy Policy

Personal data is information that is about you. Personal data collection, storage and processing is legally covered by the General Data Protection Regulation – GDPR, which has now passed into UK Law as the Data Protection Act 2018 - and this information sheet explains how that works and what it means for you.

What basis does Headway East London use to collect, store and process your personal data?

Headway East London uses the lawful basis Consent (you have given us permission), Contract (you have signed a contract with us to provide a service to you) and Legitimate Interest (we need to keep and use the information you have given us so that we can support you effectively).

- Personal data collected relating to non-funded members (Casework, Family Support) is based on the lawful basis of Legitimate Interests and/or Consent
- Personal data collected relating to funded members (Day Service, Support Work, Therapies) is based on the lawful basis of Contract

Our work involves medically related conditions, so we process information that is special category data (health records). This means we meet the additional condition (h) required under article 9 of GDPR for processing this data - it is necessary for us to use this information to support you.

What personal data does Headway East London collect and how is it used?

The personal data we need to collect from you will depend on which service, project, or information you receive or access from Headway East London. The information requested on our referral form includes most of the data we collect. We will ask you for more data if it is needed – examples of this are social services for care plans, GP for your medical history, hospital for your discharge summary. Examples of how we may use your personal data: To check that you are living in our catchment area, that your medical condition is within our remit, assessing risks to yourself and others, recording your contact details, having information about your support needs and specific situation.

Where does Headway East London store your personal data and who has access?

We store your information in secure paper systems, as images (photos? Pictures?) usually on display with your consent, and mainly on our IT (computer?) systems. We use databases, Office 365, Sharepoint. These software programmes are legally data protection compliant and store information securely on cloud-based servers. Staff have access to your personal data as needed to do their work, with tiered security level access and password clearance for different work roles. Staff are trained in keeping data safe and secure. The data is regularly backed up so we have a reliable secure record.

Is this data being shared by Headway East London with other external organisations?

There may be situations when it is necessary to share or receive your personal information with other organisations. This may be for us to support you, or to involve other organisations to support you. We will seek your written consent and talk to you when this needs to happen.

How long does Headway East London keep your personal data?

We retain and process your personal data information while a service contract for you is in place, and if we are providing you with ongoing support. We will keep your personal data for 6 years after your last contact with us, in case we need to follow up, share or check any of this information. After 6 years we will anonymise or delete your personal data and we will only keep non-identifiable statistical information.

Your Data Protection Rights

We take our data protection responsibilities seriously. We want to be clear and give you full information about all the ways we manage data. We are committed to GDPR personal data rights for individuals: to be informed, of access, to rectification, to erasure, to restrict processing, to data portability, to object.

I have questions! I'm not clear! How can I find out more?

Our full Privacy Policy and Data Map are available on our website
