

It doesn't matter with which plant it is that we are dealing, they evoke the positivity that all of us are feeling

It's said that one can reap only what he sews

I'll be sewing now for a whole bunch of tomorrows.

There was a time when I was down I wouldn't plant a beam

But being here to watch my babies grow said what a prick I'd been

They were merely seedlings when I had those dark dark days

Those feelings went as I watched them flower into beauty bouquets

Now I plant almost every day and do find the odd weed

But they go straight on the compost heap and I know I'll succeed

Fuck knows at what but I know for sure I haven't reached my full potential

But best hurry up before I'm out of seeds and in a home that's residential
